Personal Portfolio

A well-constructed website that can showcase many of my notable accomplishments and serve as a good resource to get to know what kind of person I am professionally and casually.

The goal of this portfolio website is to be a representation of me that users can look at to get an understanding of what kind of person I am. I want to make sure that it can deliver many different types of information to different users. I mostly want it to cater to a professional audience as I want to use it so I can use it in job applications, but at the same time I want to make sure it's not dense enough that it is still easy to read for someone who isn't expecting to hire me. Another goal for the website is to keep it as simple as possible trying to keep it to a single page application. I want the user to be able to navigate it easily and have a positive experience interacting with the website.
